
Joseph A. Frangipane, CPA

Associate

Mr. Frangipane has over 29 years of experience in the energy industry. He was employed by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and its predecessor, the Federal Power Commission for over 29 years. Mr. Frangipane was formerly the Director, Division of Audits, Office of the Chief Accountant at the FERC where he directed audits of public utilities, natural gas companies and oil pipeline carriers.

Mr. Frangipane was responsible for the review and evaluation of accounting policies, methods and procedures underlying the financial statements and information presented to the FERC to determine their compliance with the Commission's accounting, financial reporting and rate related regulations.

Mr. Frangipane directed the accounting staff in formal proceedings before the FERC. He also provided recommendations to the Chief Accountant for modifying the requirements of the Uniform System of Accounts, either through rulemaking or other administrative procedures.

Mr. Frangipane is a Certified Public Accountant. He earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting from Fordham University and a Master of Business Administration Degree from the American University.